1 Introduction

Acting in the interests of clients is the guiding principle that characterises the business relationship between Helaba Invest and its clients. This also means that Helaba Invest will identify, avoid or fairly resolve potential conflict of interest situations which may arise and would be detrimental to the client, by taking appropriate precautions.

In connection with the identification and the management of conflicts of interest, Helaba Invest takes all reasonable and appropriate steps in order to prevent adverse effects on the interests of the fund, the investors or the clients in connection with the rendering of investment services, ancillary investment services as well as the conduct of the investment fund business.

This Policy specifies procedures and measures adopted in order to prevent and manage potential conflicts of interest.

2 Identification of Conflicts of Interest

Conflicts of interest may arise in connection with the rendering of investment services and ancillary investment services as defined in the German Securities Trading Act (WpHG) as well as from services and ancillary services as defined in the German Investment Code (KAGB) and result in adverse effects on the interests of the investor/client and the interests of the investment fund. The relevant (investment) services include the provision of collective asset management, investment advice and portfolio management. When identifying the types of conflicts of interest, Helaba Invest is obliged to take the following into consideration:

- / own interests of Helaba Invest (including interests of companies belonging to the same Group of Companies)/its employees incl. managing directors and the interests of the investment fund, the investors or the clients, respectively;
